English: You may only participate in English credit recovery if your semester average is at least 30%. If you failed the entire year, you must complete one semester of English credit recovery before beginning the other semester.

Mathematics: You may only participate in credit recovery math classes if you passed one semester of the course during the past year. If you failed the entire year (both semesters) you will be placed in the same class in the fall.

Civics: You may participate in the credit recovery for Civics if your average is 40% or higher for the semester. Credit recovery for Civics and American History will be in Room J118.

If you are successful at completing the tutoring and required exams, we will replace the F with a D (60%) for the failed semester of the course. This will help with your required graduation requirements and get you on the path for college level courses.

If you have any questions, see your Counselor.

The summer program begins May 30, 2017. There are only three weeks available this summer, so be sure to start early and attend regularly to make sure that you will fulfill your required hours. Your time is tracked by the minute based on the time you spend working, not just if you show up. You must sign in and sign out every day. You may attend up to four hours per day.
